But it was in 2003 that Yuva Parivartan was launched officially.

With the aim to transform the lives of all those who didn't have the chance to complete their education due to various circumstances, Yuva Parivartan offers distinct vocational courses that will help youth to create a financial stability in their life. In this way, the organisation does their best to decrease the number of young minds getting battered with foul addictions. The innovated and customised trainings offered by Yuva Parivartan aim at bringing out the best from these underprivileged youths and create a better picture, not just for them, but for the society and the nation at large.

THE CHALLENGES FACED BY YUVA PARIVARTAN

1. The very first problem that Yuva Parivartan faced was the problem of pricing and licensing as most of the erp software solutions available in the market demands a lot. Being a non-profit organisation, it becomes really difficult to invest huge amounts in erp software solutions.
2. Yuva Parivartan does not offer regular courses, but vocational courses that would develop the skills of youths to make them financially independent and fulfill the growing needs of different industries. Hence, not every erp solution offer their support for these kind of courses.
3. The centres of Yuva Parivartan are spread all over Maharashtra as well as some parts of Karnataka, Delhi, Chattisgarh, Madhya Pradesh, Uttarakhand and Uttar Pradesh. Hence, it became a real challenge for them to communicate well among all the branches and on time to increase and maintain the productivity.
4. Yuva Parivartan, not being the regular educational institutions, needed an erp software solution that would be customised according to their needs.
